Scope of the Journal

ISSN: 1758-9797 (Print), ISSN: 1758-9800 (Online)

IJODE is a journal that brings together information systems engineers and organisation science researchers to the integrated study of organisation design. This includes the integrated structuring, modelling, development and deployment of IS/IT and social processes. Organisation Design and Engineering (ODE) is part of the discipline of information systems but is manifestly open to influences coming from emerging fields of study, such as organisational ethics, service science and social media.
