Scope of the Journal

ISSN: 2055-1703 (Print), ISSN: 2055-1711 (Online)

Along with the 28 EU member states, 16 Southern Mediterranean, African and Middle Eastern countries are defined as 'Euromed'. The connections between the EU and its Mediterranean neighbours may be seen as critical in terms of geopolitical and economic development. EMJM addresses management issues within this growing and diverse region. It proposes and fosters collaboration and openness between different research cultures and trends related to business topics, topics that illustrate innovative models and concepts coming into and within EuroMed.

Topics covered include:

- Management decision making
- Strategic management
- Marketing
- Human resource management
- Finance, accounting, economics and banking
- Innovation and enterprise
- Corporate social responsibility
- Operations and quality management
- Supply chain management, shipping and logistics
- Sports management
- Hospitality and tourism
- Environment and sustainable development
- Natural resources, energy and ecology management
- Food security and agriculture management
- Engineering and telecommunications strategic management
