Linking centres of excellence worldwide

The Risk, Safety and Emergency Management Journals Collection

This collection provides original research, reviews, technical and conference reports, case studies, news and commentaries on this area of fundamental concern to any society. The titles range from general - risk assessment and management, critical infrastructures, and reliability and safety - to specific areas of concern. Within safety, titles include vehicle safety, nuclear safety and food safety. Risk management issues are applied to business continuity, decision sciences, financial engineering and supply chains. Computer and network security including cryptography and human biometrics are also covered, along with liability and scientific enquiry.
